PART EIGHT OF SEVENTEEN OF LIFE AND DEATH

This story takes place approximately forty-three years after the events in the motion picture Aliens (and just over a year after the events in the Fire and Stone story cycle).

A squad of Colonial Marines and two outlaw prospectors believed they were escaping a battle on the planet Tartarus (LV-797) when they commandeered a spaceship of unknown origin. But they discovered their mistake when the pilot of the craft—one of the godlike alien entities known as Engineers—regained control of the ship and brought it to LV-223.

Once on the new planet, the humans escaped the ship and encountered the survivors of a previous mission—and their Predator companion, “Ahab.” Their hope was that the marine commander would follow the alien ship’s course and rescue them, but when they discover that the Engineer has awakened another one of his kind, they realize that waiting is not an option and make plans to steal the Engineer’s ship . . .
